Naomi Fickle, daugther of Michael

Posted by Liz Duncan <lzduncan@interacs.com> on Thu, 28 Dec 2000

Surname: Slaymker, Fickle, Baldwin, Miller, Tennent

I am from the Slaymaker, Fickle family through Michael and Margaret's daughter, Naomi, who married Daniel Baldwin. I have family record sheets on most of the family but was so happy to find the great site you have created. Do you know more about Daniel and Naomi?

I would love to share information on them.

Checking to see if you are familiar with Lawrence A. Williams book, "Miller, Fickle, Baldwin." His family sheet lists Daniel and Naomi living in Frederick Co., MD. 13 children. No burial sites. He lists the 8th child as Rachel Baldwin b Feb 1790, d 16 Aug 1853. Marr.. to John Philip Miller b Mar 1788, d 4 Jun 1838 Taneytown, Carroll Co., MD, bur Trinity Evan. Lutheran Cem. Taneytown, MD,
Rachel b Feb. 1790, d 16 Aug 1853Adams Twp. Darke Co, OH bur Gettysburg, Darke Co., OH. (I don't find a Gettysburg, OH in the atlas.) He lists 5 of Phioip and Rachel's sons and one dau Rachel Rebecca Miller marr to David Towbridge as moving on to Darke Co, OH. John Philip Miller was in the war of 1812.

I live just two miles above the Mason Dixon line into PA., ten miles west of Gettysburg. I am descended from Michael and (Margaret Slaymaker/Schleiermacher) Fickle, thru Lt. Benjamin Fickle, ReV War, his son Isaac Hedge Fickle, his son George S. Fickle and my mother Sarah Ellen (Fickle) Bayes. I live fairly close to Tanneytown and the area where these ancestors owned land in Carroll and Frederick Counties, MD. If you have any suggestions as to where I should search for burial sites I would be grateful.
Look forward to hearing from you. Roena Bayes

Subject: Re: new cousins!

I have the record sheet copies and info from his book, in fact he lives right here in Mesa, about 45 minutes away. Unfortunately, the info he has is all I have. There is a great website with Michael Fickle infomation, detailed very well. I am going to my sons to babysit, as I am on break from my teaching job, and bookmarked it yesterday. I will send the url to you. There are several people researching this family.
As for where you live, wow! I was there in October and wish I could have stayed much longer. So many of my family were from the Taneytown, Emmitsburg, and Gettysburg area. I have many questions, still unanswered. My Myers line moved from Emmitsburg to Liberty Township, stayed until 1837-38, then moved to Adams Township, Gettysburg area, Darke Co., Ohio, where they are buried. Gettysburg is a very small hole in the wall with a huge cemetary, just full of my ancestors graves. A real gold mine of history. There were many families who travel by wagon and oxen over the mountains from gettysburg, Adams county to Ohio, and established the Adams Township area of Darke county, even naming the town just to the west, Gettysburg. It was and still is a farming community with several of the old brick home standing majestically on the land of our ancestors. My dear mother passed away this past February and my sister and I went to MArion, Ohio, to take her home to be buried with her parents. We took a 90 mile drive to Gettysburg and Greenville and visited the land and saw three of the family homes, still being lived in. It was a hard trip for us, of course, but I came away feeling more a part of my history and my mother's roots. All of my mother's family on her mother's side wewre German immigrants, Penn dutch. They were they Slaymakers, Fickles, Baldwins, Millers, Stoltz, and Tennents. My grandmother was born in Greenville and married my grandfather, Edward Cowan of Maine.
I have vast files on the Myers, Stoltz, Cowans. I hope to solve some mysteries, of course that is what keeps us digging and when we discover new info or new " cousins", it just stokes the fire, right?

Anyway, I went to the Trinity Lutheran Church Cemetary in Taneytown and looked for the Miller Graves, but only found one son and his wife there. Many of the stones were unreadable.
In Emmitsburg, at the St. Elias Lutheran Cemetary and church, there were some of the Milllers and Myers. As most of the Early Germans of Caroll County and Fredricks County seemed to have been Lutheran, I am still looking for grave sites. Have you tried the Thomas Creek area? There is a Methodist church down near the end of the Thomas Creek Road on a site that used to be First a Presbyterian Church, which burned down, then a Lutheran Church, then a Methodist Church. There are supposed to be two old cemetaries farther along the road and some in the field across the road.
Well, I better run, I will keep in touch and if I get your way, as planned, in the summer, I will look you up.
There is planned a Stoltz reunion in July in Gettysburg, so we will see.
If you find any info on a Henry Stoltz family or Martin Myers-John Myers family, please let me know. I wish I were in your location.

Subject: Naomi Fickle

Checking to see if you are familiar with Lawrence A. Williams book, "Miller, Fickle, Baldwin." His family sheet lists Daniel and Naomi living in Frederick Co., MD. 13 children. No burial sites. He lists the 8th child as Rachel Baldwin b Feb 1790, d 16 Aug 1853. Marr.. to John Philip Miller b Mar 1788, d 4 Jun 1838 Taneytown, Carroll Co., MD, bur Trinity Evan. Lutheran Cem. Taneytown, MD, Rachel b Feb. 1790, d 16 Aug 1853Adams Twp. Darke Co, OH bur Gettysburg, Darke Co., OH. (I don't find a Gettysburg, OH in the atlas.) He lists 5 of Phioip and Rachel's sons and one dau Rachel Rebecca Miller marr to David Towbridge as moving on to Darke Co, OH. John Philip Miller was in the war of 1812.

I live just two miles above the Mason Dixon line into PA., ten miles west of Gettysburg. I am descended from Michael and (Margaret Slaymaker/Schleiermacher) Fickle, thru Lt. Benjamin Fickle, ReV War, his son Isaac Hedge Fickle, his son George S. Fickle and my mother Sarah Ellen (Fickle) Bayes. I live fairly close to Tanneytown and the area where these ancestors owned land in Carroll and Frederick Counties, MD. If you have any suggestions as to where I should search for burial sites I would be grateful.
Look forward to hearing from you. Roena Bayes

From

"A TEXTBOOK HISTORY OF FREDERICK CO. MD.

1775-1777"

In 1775 two companies of volunteers were raised by Frederick County, one under the command of Captain Michael Cresap, the other under Captain Thomas Price. Cresap's group was composed of 130 backwoodsmen, most of whom had been schooled in Indian tactics. Exhibiting their skills for the people of Fredericktown, one militia man would hold a target between his knees while another shot at it, such was their expertise. Two other companies were raised in Emmitsburg.

These troops began their long hard march to Boston to join forces with the Continental Army. Many were dressed in deer skins and wore moccasins, carrying tomahawks along with their firearms. They carried little else except a blanket and a canteen. At night they would wrap themselves in their blankets around the campfire. Along the line of march, they hunted game and subsisted on corn obtained along the way. The Frederick companies along with one from Shepherdstown were the first troops south of the Mason-Dixon Line to reach the field of battle.

These Maryland troops were considered among the best in the Continental Army. Their unorthodox method of fighting brought favorable comment from their superiors. Their marksmanship and their reliability helped carry many battles. Among the first to cross bayonets with the British, they soon became proficient in the use of that weapon.

A young lieutenant in Captain Price's company, Otho Holland Williams became one of the most brilliant officers of the Revolutionary Army. Williams, a former clerk in the County Courthouse, became commander of the Maryland Company when Price was promoted. At the fall of Fort Washington on the Hudson River with his superior officers injured or absent, Williams assumed command of the regiment and was wounded, captured and held prisoner by the British for fifteen months until his release in a prisoner exchange. Immediately, he was given command of the Sixth Maryland Regiment. Later he became Deputy Adjutant-General of the Army under General Horatio Gates and served in the Battle of Camden. He became Adjutant General under General Nathanial Green and guarded Green's retreat in the Southern Campaign. In the Battle of Eutaw, Williams led the Bayonet charge that won the engagement, and because of this action, he was made a brigadier-general.

In January, 1776 the State Convention ordered 1,440 men to be enlisted for the defense of the colony. Frederick County made up one district of defense, and Thomas Johnson, Jr. was selected as the brigadier general responsible for military activity in this area.

In March the first Britsh prisoners arrived in Fredericktown for confinement at the local barracks. Military stores in great number were located in the Fredericktown area with gunpowder stored in the Market House.

Meanwhile, the people of the province continued the carrying on of governmental activities. In June, complying with a request from the Maryland delegates in Congress, a meeting of Frederick County citizens resolved,

"That what may be recommended by a majority of Congress, equally delegated by the people of the United Colonies, we will at the hazard of our lives and fortunes support and maintain, and that every resolution of the convention tending to separate this Province from a majority of the Colonies, without the consent of the people is destructive to our internal safety and fit with public ruin."

This same meeting produced delegates to a provincial convention which on September 6 declared that Frederick County should be separated into three colonies. The western lands were to become a part of a county named Washington, while the lower lands were to be placed in a county named Montgomery.

At Fort Washington in November, 1776, the British overwhelmed the Maryland troops, capturing over 400 of them. In so doing they sustained 900 killed and wounded of their own, most of them in the attack on the lines held by Marylanders. Unfortunately, according to historians, the battle was lost because troops elsewhere around Fort Washington did not perform as well.

By late 1776, General WAshington and the Continental Army after loosing a number of battles were in dire straits. Congress dispatched Colonel Ewing of the Maryland Flying Camp to the Maryland Council of Safety to tell them of the losses and immediately the militia of Cecil, Baltimore, Harford, and Frederick Counties were made ready. On December 1 the enlistments of General Beall's Maryland Brigade of the Flying Camp expired and, because Beall was so unpopular, the majority of these troops refused reenlistment. General Washington, having no other alternative, discharged the men. Many reenlisted upon return to Maryland.

EDWARD HAMILTON & RACHEL FICKIE

Marion Library, Marion, Ohio

Marion - Hardin Co. 1895

five years he has been Class-Leader, and has also served as Trustee, Steward and an exhorter in the church at Grant. His parents were connected with the Scotch Presbyterian Church, and his father was an Elder. Interested in educational matters, he has rendered efficient service as School Director, and for many years filled the office of Township Trustee. In every position of trust to which he has been called, he has done everything in his power to promote the moral, educational and agricultural interests of his section and is justly numbered among the most influential men of his community. Socially he held fraternal relations with the Order of Good Templars during the existence of that organization.

GEORGE H. HAMILTON has lived for the past seventeen years on section 17, Pleasant Township, Hardin County. His home lies two and a-half miles north of Kenton, and the farm contains one hundred and sixty-six and three-quarters acres, improved with good buildings, fences, etc. He has many friends in this community, and enjoys an enviable reputation for his uniform integrity and sterling worth. Never an office seeker, he yet has been called upon to serve as School Director and Road Supervisor, but aside from these offices has managed to keep out of public affairs. On questions of National importance his ballot is given to the Democracy, but in local matters he is independent.

William Hamilton, our subject's father, was born in Virginia, June 12, 1800. His father, Edward Hamilton, was born in Scotland in 1730, and was brought to the United States in his youth by his father, (who was a brother of Alexander Hamilton, the great American statesman.) After living for two years in Connecticut, the family moved to Virginia, where Edward received part of his education. He was a great scholar and mathematician. For over forty years he was a Steward in the Methodist Episcopal Church. He married Rachel Fickle, a Virginian, and in the fall after they crossed the mountains to Ohio, this journey being made in a peculiar way. Two oak barrels were fastened together and swung across a horse, and the two children were placed in these receptacles, while the mother rode the animal, the father walking ahead carrying his axe and gun. A few pots and pans and a few provisions were all their possessions, but the latter, who was an excellent hunter, supplied them with wild game on the way. They settled in Perry County, three miles northeast of Somerset, where Mr. Hamilton entered eighty acres of land which was thickly covered with chestnut, walnut, hickory and maple trees. When George H. was a lad of seventeen, he spent one winter with his grandparents, helping to make fifty gallons of delicious maple syrup. During the War of 1812 Edward Hamilton was in the service, and for three days was at Fort Malden, just before Hull's surrender, being on his way to reinforce that General, but on account of his surrender retreated. He died in 1848, and his wife's death took place just two days prior to his own, she being in her seventy-eighth year. Of their children, Elizabeth first married a Mr. Joslyn, and after his death became the wife of Henry Warrick; Joseph settled in Brownsville, Ohio; Sarah married Dick Barnett, who lived to be one hundred and one years of age; Mrs. Rachel Bowser, formerly resided in Perry County, but later moved to Franklin County, Ohio; Benjamin ran a tanyard, in connection with his brother James, in Marion County for many years; James, a farmer of Marion County, lived to celebrate his golden wedding; Samuel located in Fultonham, Perry County; Isaac died in Franklin County in February, 1895, when within six days of being eighty years of age; and Cary, the youngest, married Harrison Roberts, who resided in Muskingum County.

William Hamilton was about a year and a-half old when his parents brought him in the basket on horseback, previously alluded to, from his native state to Ohio. He was reared in Perry County and until he was seventeen years of age attended log schoolhouses, but much of his education was received from his father by a torch-light fire, and three of his brothers, who received like instruction, afterward became teachers in this state. When in his eighteenth year young William went to learn the carpenter's trade with his uncle, Edward Fickle, and afterward followed that business until his marriage, February 14, 1827, with Margaret Rice. He then rented a farm for a year, after which he bought one hundred and sixty acres north of Marion, Marion County. There he continued to dwell until his death, June 11, 1872, the day before the anniversary of the seventy-second year of his birth. For many years he followed his trade in various parts of Marion County, at the same time carrying on his farm. He was a life-long Democrat, and was respected by all who knew him. His wife was born in Chillicothe, Ohio, in 1805, being a daughter of Jacob and Nancy Rice, who were married in that city about 1802. The father was born in Germany, and after living for a few years in Chillicothe, put up the first horsemill erected in Marion County, and about 1837 moved to Adams County, Ill., where his death occurred. He was drafted into the service in the War of 1812, and was with Hull among the surrendered soldiers. Being kept a prisoner on an island in Lake Erie, he suffered much by hunger and cold during one winter, and lost two fingers and all his finger and toe nails by freezing. With his brother he was released the following summer and returned home. Mrs. Margaret Hamilton was one of five children. Her brother, Dr. Robert Rice, practiced in Fremont, Ohio, forty years, and his son, Dr. John B., was a surgeon in the army during the late war. John, another brother, lived in Marion County, until the close of the war, when he moved to Kansas. William settled near the old fort at Fremont; and Mary, the only sister, was three times married, first to a Mr. Lapole, then to a Mr. Bowers, and lastly to a Mr. Cobb, of Illinois. Mrs. Margaret Hamilton died in Marion County, January 11, 1880, after a long and useful life. Her education was largely obtained from a private teacher, who lived in the home of a Mr. Hopkins, in Scott Township, Marion County.

George H. Hamilton is next to the eldest of fifteen children, the others being as follows: Rachel, who died in Marion County; Mary, who died at the age of seventeen years; Carrie, wife of William Bowser, of Illinois; Elizabeth, who died at the age of eleven years; Samuel, whose death occurred in infancy; Edward, who departed this life in 1865; Caroline, who is now deceased, and who was formerly the wife of Van Search; Jane, deceased, formerly the wife of John Search; Marguerett, Mrs. William Reece, of Marion; Amanda, who married William Van Meter, of Marion County; Catherine, the wife of Louis Sosa, a blacksmith of Marion; Nancy, Mrs. Al Chapman, who lives in Marion County; William, who died in infancy; and Ella, who died at the age of twenty-six years, unmarried.

The subject of this sketch was born on a farm near Marion, April 17, 1829, and attended the district schools until he was nineteen years of age. On the morning of his twenty-first birthday his mother gave him a half-dollar coined in the year 1809, which had been given her by her mother, and which our subject still has in his possession. He started forth to make his own way, and for five months was employed by Thomas Hoops at $11 per month. Mr. Hoops later moved to Illinois and founded Hoopestown, where Mr. Hamilton has since visited him. Two years followed in which George H. worked at grading on the Bellefontaine & Indiana Railroad. March 15, 1853, he started for the Pacific gold-fields by way of New York and the Isthmus. At Aspinwall he took a skiff to Gorgona, on the Chagres River, and thence walked to Panama, where he embarked in the steamer "George Law" for San Francisco, arriving there April 14, 1853. Going to Sacramento, he tried to find an uncle there, but failed and went on with a party to Donaldville. He soon obtained a position at $100 a month and his board, and at the end of seven months bought an interest in a mine for $2,000, serving as Treasurer of the company until he left for home. In about a year and a-half he made $4,500, and he concluded to return East. At San Francisco he embarked on the steamer "Golden Gate," and when a few days away from Aspinwall yellow fever broke out on the vessel. Forty-seven of his fellow-passengers died, and one of these occupied the berth below his own, our subject's escape being a matter of surprise to everyone. While he was in California some earth caved in upon him and he was extricated only a moment before there was another slide, which would have buried him under twenty feet of debris. As it was, he was unconscious for eighteen hours and was obliged to use crutches for four months. He finally reached home safely, September 29, 1854, and soon after invested his savings in one hundred and eighty-four acres of land in Marion Township, Marion County, where he lived for twenty-three years. Selling out, he removed to his present farm April 2, 1877.

January 4, 1855, Mr. Hamilton was married, in Marion County, to Margaret J., daughter of John P. and Naomi (Mouser) Smith. The former was born in Virginia in 1803, being a son of Edward Smith, who died in the Old Dominion. In 1829 the father moved to a farm in Marion County, this state, where he departed this life in 1887. He was married in Jefferson County, Va., in 1827, his wife having been born in that locality, in 1803, to Jacob and Ave (Benner) Mouser. Mrs. Hamilton was born January 18, 1835, and is one of nine children, the others being, William, Jacob, Mary, Martha, George, one who died unnamed, Isaac and James. The union of Mr. and Mrs. George Hamilton has been blessed with eleven children, namely: John W., who lives near Kenton; Naomi E., deceased, formerly the wife of Madison Birchfield, of Marion County; James A., a farmer of this neighborhood; Mary O., who died in 1889; Frank E. and Frances M., twins, the former living on a farm west of his father's homestead, and the latter having died in February, 1881; George A., who is engaged in farming in this vicinity; Ernest, whose death occurred in June, 1892; Minnie I., living at home; Orpha G., also at home; and Alpha S., who died in infancy.

During the War of the Rebellion Mr. Hamilton enlisted in Company B, One Hundred and Thirty-sixth Ohio Infantry, was mustered in at Camp Chase, May 11, 1864, and served four months under Colonel Irvin, being stationed most of the time near Alexandria and Washington. He is a member of Kenton Post No. 97, G. A. R. He is quite a traveler, having visited all the great cities of this country between the Mississippi River and the Atlantic seaboard, and having also spent much time in California, as before stated.

HISTORY OF JOHN PHILIP MILLER
By Lawrence A. Williams

Our John Philip Miller, born March 1788 in Frederick County, Maryland, per burial record, is believed to be the Pvt. Philip Miller in Cpt. Dominic Bader's Union Jagers, Vice Norris and not the one in Cpt. Schwarzauer's Co.; Maryland 27th Regiment under LTC Kennedy Long; 3rd Brigade commanded by Brigadier General John Striker of the 3rd Division commanded by Major General Samuel Smith.

The following concerning the latter is taken from page 161-4 of the British Invasion of Maryland 1812-1815 by William M. Marine published 1913. General Striker's report to General Smith dated 15 Sep 1814 (pertinent extracts only):
"I marched from Baltimore, Maryland on Sunday 11 September with part of my brigade as advance corps of the Army under your command, 7 miles from Baltimore to the Head of Bear Creek where we camped for the night. Our cavalry were deployed 3 miles in advance toward North Point near Gorsuch's farm. At 7 A.M. the next morning I received word that the British were debarking troops off the bluff of North Point, within the mouth of Patopsco River. I immediately moved forward the 5th and 27th Regiments, (Note: Phillip is a Pvt. in the 27th Regt.) and my artillery to the head of Long Log Lane, resting the 5th with its right at the head of a branch of Bear Creek, and its left on the main North Point Road, while the 27th was posted on the other side of the road in line with the 5th, its left extending towards a branch of Back River. The artillery I posted at the bend of the lane in the interval between the 5th & 27th. The 39th occupied ground 300 yards in the rear of the 27th & the 51st likewise behind the 5th, each extending parallel to the front line. My orders were that the 5th & 27th Regiments should receive the Brittish and if necessary fall back through the 51st & 39th and form on the right of the 6th or Reserve Regiment. The riflemen were ordered to the skirts of a thick low pine wood beyond the blacksmith shop, with a large sedge field in front. Soon our whole rifle corps came falling back upon my position, having listened to groundless information that the Brittish were landing on Back River to cut us off. I threw the riflemen on the right flank of my front line. My Videttes soon brought information that the enemy in small force was at Gorsuch's farm. Two companies with cavalry were dispatched to quel the enemy. They were engaged by the main force of the Brittish before reaching the farm, proceeding scarcely half a mile, before the main body showed itself. Fire was maintained for some minutes with some loss in killed and wounded. Disengaged owing to the ground not being in our favor. At half past two rockets across our flank commenced, the British right column then pushed towards my left. Cannonading exchanges were brisk for a few minutes. I ceased mine and to reinforce my left flank, which appeared to be the object of the enemy, I brought up the 39th into line on the left of the 27th, detaching two pieces of artillery to the left of the 39th to more securely protect the left flank. The Brittish column advanced upon the 39th & 27th. The 51st under Col. Amey had been ordered to form his Regiment at right angle with my line, on the 39th. The order being badly executed, created for a moment some confusion in that quarter, but was soon rectified by the efforts of my aide-de-camp and brigade majors. However, the 51st delivered one random fire and retreated precipetately, and in such confusion, as to render every effort of mine to rally them ineffective. A few gave way in the 2nd Bn of the 39th due to this disorder. The fire now became general from left to right. About 2:50 P.M. the enemy's line advanced with a severe fire which was well returned by our artillery, the whole 27th & 5th, except three companies of Cpt. Levering, Howard, and Sadtler, which were exhausted by the advance skirmishers, and ordered retreat of the 1st Bn of the 39th, which had maintained its ground in spite of the disgraceful example set by the intended support on the left. The fire was incessant until 3:45, when finding that my line, now 1400 strong, was insufficient to withstand the superior numbers of the Brittish and my left flank being exposed, I was constrained to order a movement back to the reserve regiment under Col.M'Donald, which was well posted to receive the retired line, which mostly rallied well. The fatigued state of the regiments which had retired, and the probability that my left flank might be turned, induced me to fall back to Worthington's Mill. On the morning of 13 Sep 1814 you found the brigade somewhat fatigued, but with increased confidence in ourselves and renewing our preparations for annoyance of the Brittish. LTC Long of the 27th Regiment and his field and company officers did well. This whole regiment was unsurpassed, in bravery, resolution and enthusiasm."

Under an act of 1793, the Militia was organized into 3 Divisions, each commanded by a Major General. The 3rd Division, commanded by Major General Samuel Smith was in charge of the defenses for Baltimore. He worked with the City Council and those appointed by that council in organizing the civilian populace in August and early September 1814. All the 51 Regiments of his and two additional Divisions, 1st & 2nd, were distributed throughout the surrounding counties and in Baltimore City. All were under General Smith's command.

Pvt. Phillip Miller, being in Cpt. Schwarzauer's Co., 28th Maryland Regiment under LTC Kennedy Long was stationed within Baltimore City until ordered to march out on Sunday, 11 Sep 1814 for North Point, where the Brittish were preparing to disembark 3,270 Marines and Seamen. The forgoing is an account of the engagement of the Brittish in battle by the American forces organized for that purpose. Delaying tactics were employed the following day Tuesday,

GEORGE W. MILLER, farmer, Sec. 34; P. O. Gettysburg. Phillip, the father of George W., was a native of Maryland, born in 1775. He married Rachel Baldwin, who was a native of the same State, in 1793; he departed this life in his native State, in May, 1837; Rachel, his widow, remained in Maryland till 1844, when she, with her family of eleven children, emigrated to Ohio, locating in Darke Co., where she resided till her death, which occurred on the 16th of August, 1853, leaving a family of ten children, of whom seven are living at the present writing, viz., Abraham, Daniel, Joseph, Kisiah, Margaret, Rachel, Rebecca. George W., the subject of this sketch, was born in Carroll Co., Md., on the 13th of May, 1828; he came, with his mother, when he was about 16 years old, but lived with his brother Abraham, who resided in New Harrison, where he obtained a good common-school education; at the age of 18, he commenced to learn the blacksmithing trade with his brother, in the town where he resided; he only followed the business two years, when he began the carpentering trade with Samuel Paulin, where he worked for about two years; he then followed the trade on his own responsibility for about six years. On the 7th of October, 1853, he celebrated his marriage with Eliza Reck, who was born in Darke Co., Ohio, on the 14th of September, 1836; in 1863, he rented a farm, where he lived for a period of about six years, after which he purchased 27 acres of S. Rontzon, for which he paid $1,600, where he has resided since. Mr. Miller has accumulated some property by his hard labor, in which he has been nobly assisted by his good and amiable wife. They are members of the Lutheran Church, and are living zealous and consistent Christians. Five children have been born to them, viz., Margaret A., Nov. 10, 1854; George W., Feb. 13, 1857; John E., Sept. 10, 1859; William H., April 20, 1862; Welby L., Aug. 13, 1867. Mr. Miller and his wife have passed through the many struggles, dangers and incidents so common to the pioneers of the West. Unfortunately for him, his father died when he was only about 9 years old, leaving his mother with eleven children, to survive the storms of life; but Providence smiled, sparing her life to see all her children grow into manhood and womanhood. George W., by his indomitable will and iron nerve, has fought the battles of life manfully, coming off more than conqueror. In 1864, he enlisted in the one-hundred-day service and went forth to battle for his country. Philip, his father, served in the war of 1821, and was at the bombardment of Baltimore in 1814.

ABRAHAM MILLER, retired blacksmith; P. O. New Harrison; is a native of Maryland, born in Frederick County, on the 9th of March, 1820; his father's sketch appears with his brother, Geo. W. Miller, in another place of this work: Abraham came to Ohio when he was about 21 years old; he obtained a good common-school education in the district schools of Maryland; he commenced to learn the blacksmithing trade when he was in his eighteenth year, at which he served two years. When he came to Ohio he opened up a shop in New Harrison, where he operated for a period of thirty years; meeting with good success, he now owns 70 acres of land, valued at $4,000, all of which he has made by his hard labor, in which he has been nobly assisted by his good and amiable wife, to whom he was married on the 4th of December, 1845; she is a daughter of William and Christina Reck, born in Adams County, Penn., on the 17th of September, 1824, her name being Julia Ann; eight children have been born to them—viz., William R., Jeremiah, Abraham S., Eliza Christina, Rachel Rebecca, Samuel (deceased), Henry H., Julia Ann; Mr. and Mrs. Miller are members of the Lutheran Church.

13 September 1814, but the Brittish approached the city by nightfall. Now, from a Brittish officer's account of the events that followed, the facts leading to their decision to withdraw, are as follows: 1st - General Ross, the Brittish Commander had been killed at the battle of Bladenburg, the preceeding day, and Col. Brook was in command. 2nd - The conduct of the Americans was much improved over any previous and their defense of the city employing 100 cannon on the commanding terrain was strategically brilliant. 3rd - The Admiral of the Brittish Fleet of about 30 ships conveyed his inability to go closer than six miles of the city due to shallowness of the water and he could offer only one Schooner towing 22 barges, on one was an 18 pounder mounted. It was felt little bounty could be taken even if they were successful in their attempt to subdue the city. 4th - Volunteer American troops captured had said the American troops numbered 20,000, considerably outnumbering the Brittish. All these facts led to a withdrawal being executed. Fort McHenry had a full view of their retreat and it was placed under heavy bombardment from Tuesday, 13 September at sunrise until Wednesday, at 7:00 A.M. From 1500-1800 shells were fired, some short and some over. "A large portion burst over us throwing their fragments among us and threatening destruction. Many passed over and about 400 fell within the works doing some damage to public buildings."

It was at this Fort McHenry battle that Frances Scott Key penned the immortal words we now sing to, "The Star Spangled Banner ", our National Anthum.

This overall Brittish defeat so impressed King Charles of England that it is impossible to measure its impact upon his decision to grant the colonies their independence as free soverign nation. It dramatically indicated a united determination by a great number of freedom loving people, thought to be at least 20,000 in that area, and indicated a much greater number elsewhere in America felt the same way. The Monarch knew that even if his troops won he would never be able to place under Brittish subjection these high spirited freedom loving people of the Colonies.

ON THE NAVAL ATTACK NEAR BALTIMORE, SEPT., 1814

By Philip Freneau

The sons of old ocean advanced from the bay
To achieve an exploit of renown;
And Cochrane and Cockburn commanded that day,
And meant to exhibit a tragical play,
Call'd the plunder and burning of Baltimore town.
The scenes to be acted were not very new,
And when they approach'd, with the rat-tat-too,
As merry as times would allow,
We ran up the colours to liberty true,
And gave them a shot with a tow-row-dow.

By land and by water how many have fail'd
In attacking an enemy's town,
But Britons, they tell us, have always prevail'd
Wherever they march'd or wherever they sail'd,
To honour his majesty's sceptre and crown:
Wherever they went with the trumpet and drum,
And the dregs of the world, and the dirt and the scum,
As soon as the music begun,
The colours were struck, and surrender'd the town
When the summons was given of down, down, down!

But fortune, so fickle, is turning her tide,
And safe is old Baltimore town,
Though Cockburn and Cochrane, with Ross at their side,
The sons of Columbia despised and defied,
And determined to batter it down-
Rebuff'd and repulsed in disgrace they withdrew,
With their down, down, down, and their rat-tat-too,
As well as the times would allow:
And the sight, we expect, will be not very new
When they meet us again with our tow-row-dow.

ALEX D. REDFORD

The community was shocked and grieved when it was learned that Alex Redford had been found dead in his bed Wednsday morning (12 Apr 1916) by Mrs. Redford when she went to awaken him at 6:30 o'clock. Cause of death was heart failure.

Mr. Redford was one of our well known and esteemed citizens, and at the time of his death held the office of councelman from the 3rd ward and was a prominent candidate for the Democratic nomination for county assessor.

Tuesday he was feeling as well as usual, apprently, and worked around his place in the forenoon, and in the afternoon went down town to look after business matters.

In the evening he wrote some letters in regard to his canidacy. He is said to have rested good during the night and at midnight when Mrs. Redford spoke to him he said he had slept well.

In the morning when she awoke she noticed that he looked pale and did not awaken him before she left the room. On returning an hour or such a matter later she found him dead.

Alexander Dobson Redford was a native of Johnson Co. and was born north of Blackwater, 15 Dec. 1859. A number of years ago, he moved to Warrensburg and was engaged in the hardware business. He sold the hardware establishment nine or ten years ago and with his family moved to Idaho. Three years ago they returned to Warrensburg, and with his family lived in their home in the 3rd ward on Broad Street. The deceased was a man honest and square in his business with his fellowmen and had the respect and esteem of a host of friends.

At the age of 13 he united with the Cumberland Presbyterian Church and later united with the Presbyterian Church. He was a devoted church member and lived as he professed. He is survived by his widow and one son, also two sisters. Miss Lou Redford and Mrs. Ellen Henshaw, both of Idaho.

The funeral arrangements had not been made at the time of this notice was put in type, but the burial will be at the Pleasant Grove Cemetary north of Knob Knoster in charge of the Masonic fraternity, of which order he was a member.

The many friends of the stricken relatives sympathizes with them in their great sorrow.
